The Essential Event for Today's Litigation Support Professional

Litigation Support Today leads the market in readership and response!

Comments from Attendees and Exhibitors at the 1st International Litigation Support Leaders Conference, Washington D.C., May 15-16 2008

Like the magazine that inspired it, the first annual International Litigation Support Leaders Conference, produced by Litigation Support Today, generated rave reviews from attendees, sponsors and exhibitors! Together, the publication and conference provide unmatched coverage of industry trends, best practices, and new technology. No wonder litigation support professionals in corporate, government and private firms turn to us first for insider tips on everything from discovery and data processing to document & e-dd man-agement, attorney support, trial technology and career & profes-sional development.

You can get high quality contacts from thousands of influential litigation support professionals with an advertising program in Litigation Support Today magazine, and by sponsoring or exhibiting at the 2009 International Litigation Support Leaders Conference next May in Washington D.C. To discuss a program and lock in our special offers, see contact information below.

"The conference was a huge success and all of you deserve a tremendous 'pat on the back' for a job well done. I was extremely impressed with the overall conference preparation, and organization." Duane Lites, Director, Litigation Support, Jackson Walker LLP

"I have attended, and presented at a number of conferences in my time as a litigation support professional, and I found this to be the most productive and enjoyable conference I have participated in...excellent job matching the programme to the target audience." Damien Adams, CCH Work Solutions – Sydney Australia

"I am sure I speak for many of the attendees when I state that the conference was well thought-out, well organized and extremely well executed. The interactive sessions allowed for open communication and idea sharing among the best in the industry." Lana Schell, Women in EDiscovery

"From an exhibitor's perspective, both the networking and business opportunities were great as we felt the level and quality of the attendees to be outstanding." Terri Tipton, I PRO Tech

"What an awesome conference. It was like the who's who of litigation support. We had a debriefing call about it yesterday and we are already planning for next year!" Robert Maher, Business Development Manager, UHY Advisors FLVS, Inc.

"Congratulations! Everyone felt that the content was excellent, and I heard that the awards dinner was lovely." Peggy Wechsler, Program Director, International Legal Technology Association

"My compliments once again on an extremely well-run program. Even the meals and the vendor hall were qualitatively superior to anything else I've seen." David Baldwin, Litigation Support Manager, Choate, Hall & Stewart LLP

"There were many key contacts there and...it gave me the opportunity to have multiple conversations with them in a casual setting, versus other really large events where you get lost in the sea of people and don't get the chance to connect." John Rowley, President, i-RFP, Inc.

"...a huge thank you ... for [producing] such an excellent conference. All who I have talked to agreed that the content, organization and atmosphere were excellent..." Nigel Murray, Managing Director, TRILANTIC

"The conference was a complete success, the speakers on the panel were informative and most of all very dedicated to our field of litigation support. The camaraderie was whole-heartily felt and appreciated!" Alex Garcia, Senior Litigation Technology Consultant, vDiscovery

"Great job on a successful conference! I learned a lot and it was a lot of fun too!" Sarah Sims, Operations Manager, LexisNexis Discovery Services

"It is hard to find any relevant conferences in Canada on this topic, so I am very glad I made the trip for this one. I hope to make it an annual event." David MacNeil, Manager, Litigation Support Services, Cox & Palmer

"[We] were very pleased with the show, so we will likely be back next year!" Kimya Coker, Marketing Manager, NEXIDIA
